

Reading is important because

It can teach you things you did not know. You can read whatever you want. Reading can allow you to experience different emotions and feelings. It can bring you places you have never been before and sometimes never even heard of before. Reading is one way to keep your brain healthy. You can read anywhere and whenever you want. There are so many types of reading like Fiction such as Desendents, Care bears and Smurfs and then Non-fiction such as who was books and Dolphin Rescue.

You can read the same book over and over and over again and get a different meaning of the book.

It can tell you how to do something like a cook book or any other how to book. You can never stop reading. That's why reading is important to me.
